

We have already moved ahead and our road to grow bigger and better gets wider every year. We now have the first and second generation teachers who are now taking our methods to different parts of India and also the world. But we have a bright future lined up for us, by which the entire approach to Homeopathy will change forever.

The main area of our future plan is our centre at Lonavala which will also be our base and this will be set up to conduct residential and long term courses.

For the benefit of the Indian doctors all over the country, we have formed an institute known as the School for Education and Research in Classical Homeopathy, i.e. SEARCH.
