

Homeopathic Research and Charities, a charitable trust formed in 1991, is a well-known name among Homeopaths in India and abroad. Known as HRC, its member trustees and second generation teachers are without a doubt some of the finest in the world and have contributed significantly to the development of Homeopathy globally. The HRC teachers have a specific and very systematic method outlined for education and HRC has followers all over the world thanks to the pioneering work of the teachers led by Dr. Rajan Sankaran.